

Copyright Assignment Agreement

Journal of Public Finance and Public Choice

Please read the form and explanatory notes carefully and complete, sign and upload a scanned copy of the form to Editorial Manager when you submit the final version of your article.

The Journal of Public Finance and Public Choice is published by Bristol University Press on behalf of the Associazione Economia delle Scelte Pubbliche. The Associazione Economia delle Scelte Pubbliche exclusively licences all publication rights to Bristol University Press.

In order to publish your article we need your agreement to assign copyright to the Associazione Economia delle Scelte Pubbliche. Please take a moment to read the terms of this agreement and the explanatory notes.

Title of Article

Name(s) of Author(s).....

Name of Copyright Owner, if not Author(s)

- You (the author(s) or other copyright owner) hereby transfer your copyright to the Associazione Economia delle Scelte Pubbliche. If you do not own the copyright yourself, the copyright owner (e.g., your employer) will need to assign copyright. If you are a UK government employee, we will send you a special form to sign; if you are a US government employee, and your work was prepared as part of your official duties your work is not subject to copyright (although, if one or more of the authors are not government employees, one of them should still sign). For further information please contact pp-production@bristol.ac.uk.
- In particular, this means that you grant us the exclusive right, for the full term of copyright and any renewals/extensions thereof, both to reproduce and/or distribute your article (including the abstract) ourselves throughout the world in printed, electronic or any other medium, and in turn to authorise others (including Reproduction Rights Organisations such as the Copyright Licensing Agency and the Copyright Clearance Center) to do the same. (If you receive any direct requests for permission to use your article, please pass them on to the editorial department at Bristol University Press; who will respond as speedily as possible.)
- You certify, as corresponding author, that you have informed co-authors of the terms of this agreement, and that they have given their consent for you to sign on their behalf.
- You agree that we may publish your article in the journal named above, and that we may sell or distribute it within the journal, on its own, or with other related material. In return, we agree to publish your article at our expense.
- You warrant (i.e., promise) that the article is your original work, has not previously been published, and is not currently under consideration by another journal. If it contains material which is someone else's copyright, you promise that you have obtained the unrestricted permission of the copyright owner (please attach evidence of this) and that the material is clearly identified and acknowledged within the text. You also promise that the article does not, to the best of your knowledge, contain anything which is libellous, illegal, or infringes anyone's copyright or other rights.

- You assert your moral right to be identified as the author(s), and we promise that we will respect your rights as the author(s). That is, we will make sure that your name(s) is/are always clearly associated with the article and, while you do allow us to make necessary editorial changes, we will not make any substantial alteration to your article without consulting you. When the article is accepted, we undertake to publish it as soon as we reasonably can. If it is rejected, this agreement is automatically cancelled and all the rights revert back to you. On publication, we will send you a free copy and a PDF offprint. We will do everything we reasonably can to maximise the visibility of the journal, and of your article within it.
- Copyright is transferred to the Associazione Economia delle Scelte Pubbliche, and we will indicate this in the copyright line which appears on your article. However, we grant back to you the right to use your own article (provided you acknowledge the published original in standard bibliographic citation form) in the following ways, as long as you do not sell it, or give it away, in ways which would conflict directly with our commercial business interests. You are free to use your article for the internal educational or other purposes of your own institution or company; or in whole or in part, as the basis for spoken presentations. You may also re-publish the whole or any part of the article in a book written, edited or compiled by you provided reference is made to first publication in the journal. Permission will automatically be granted but please inform the editorial department at Bristol University Press about any such book.
- Self-archiving and institutional repositories policy:

Author’s version pre-acceptance: You may post your author version (pre-peer review and editing) on your own non-commercial website, your institution’s or funding body’s online repository or archive or your own website or employer’s website/repository. Please note however, that on no account should the final PDF be posted on any website or used in any online resource without separate permission from us, and that such an action would represent a breach of copyright.

Author’s version post-acceptance: In addition, you may post a copy of the version of your article incorporating changes made during peer review, but before copy editing and typesetting to a free public institutional or subject repository, no sooner than 12 months after publication in an issue of the journal. Such copy must be clearly identified as the author’s post-acceptance version and state that it is not to be cited; it must also include the following notice:

© [Associazione Economia delle Scelte Pubbliche, year]. The definitive, peer-reviewed and edited version of this article is published in [name of journal, volume, issue, pages, year, DOI or URL]

For further information see: <http://bristoluniversitypress.co.uk/self-archiving>

- We acknowledge that, notwithstanding any other terms or conditions in this agreement: Author accepted manuscript versions, which arise from submissions based on results from research funded fully or partially by cOAlition S Organisations, can be made freely available at the time of publication through any Open Access repository of the author’s choice.

The Author Accepted Manuscript can be shared under a CC BY or equivalent licence; CC BY-ND upon agreement by the cOAlition S Organisation.

- We will keep the information you have provided for record purposes and to contact you as necessary; you permit your name and address to be reproduced in the journal, on indexing and abstracting and bibliographic services. Your personal data will be held in accordance with our privacy policy: <http://bristoluniversitypress.co.uk/privacy-policy>, and only used for marketing purposes if you have opted into receiving it. You can manage your marketing preferences at: <http://bristoluniversitypress.co.uk/signup-bup-pp>.

ASSIGNMENT OF COPYRIGHT: EXPLANATORY NOTES TO AUTHOR

The Associazione Economia delle Scelte Pubbliche's policy is to acquire copyright for all contributions and exclusively licence all publication rights to Bristol University Press, for the below reasons. However, we ensure that authors can comply with funder mandates by permitting the sharing of Author Accepted Manuscripts under a CC BY or equivalent licence for submissions based on research funded by cOAlition S Organisations.

Ownership of copyright by a central organisation helps to ensure maximum international protection against infringement.

- Requests for permission to reproduce articles in databases, books and other types of publication, course packs or for library loan can be handled efficiently and with sensitivity to changing library and reader needs. This relieves authors of a time-consuming and costly administrative burden.
- The demand for research literature to be delivered in electronic form online, or on physical media such as CD-ROM or DVD-ROM, can be met efficiently, with proper safeguards for authors, editors and journal owners.
- There are opportunities to reach institutions (e.g., companies, schools and public libraries) and individual readers that are unlikely to subscribe to the journal itself. Bristol University Press works with other organisations to publish, where appropriate, in online databases or to deliver copies of individual articles. It has also registered the Journal with the Copyright Licensing Agency, which offers centralised licensing arrangements for photocopying. Income received from all of these sources is used to further the interests of the Journal.
- Your article will be published in the Journal both in printed form and online, and will be stored electronically to enable Bristol University Press to meet demand for access to the article individually, as part of the Journal, and as part of a larger collection of articles to meet the specific requirements of particular markets. Assignment of copyright signifies agreement to Bristol University Press making such arrangements.

Thank you for reading these notes. This assignment will enable Bristol University Press to ensure that your article will reach the optimum readership.
