The series publishes cutting-edge research on the changing international politics of East Asia. It will cover the security dynamics, political economy, causes of conflict and cooperation, and the ongoing transformation of the region, as well as the impact of such transformation on the wider global order.

In welcoming theoretically informed works which draw on rich insights from across Asia, the series will shed light on key disciplinary debates and play an important role in developing IR as a truly global discipline.

If you would like to submit a proposal, or would like to discuss ideas, please email series editors
