

Connected Communities series

Series Editors: Keri Facer, University of Bristol and George McKay, University of East Anglia

The Connected Communities series showcases engaged research from the UK Arts and Humanities Research Council (AHRC), which seeks to understand the changing nature of communities and their role in addressing contemporary individual, societal and global concerns.

The series focuses on innovation in research methodologies, and brings together interdisciplinary research, culture and creativity, and the expertise and insights of communities themselves. It discusses the co-production of action research to combine academic and public knowledge for high impact.

HB £80.00 ISBN 9781447330288
EPUB £27.99 ISBN 9781447330325
Nov 2017

This text brings together academics, artists, practitioners and 'community activists' to explore the possibilities for and tensions of social justice work under the contemporary drive for community-oriented 'impact' in the academy. It explores the possibilities and tensions for social justice work that emerge from the collision of long-established community oriented research practices, an increased institutional emphasis on community co-production in the academy, and the ongoing critique of the key terms of these practices.

Valuing Interdisciplinary Collaborative Research

Edited by Keri Facer and Kate Pahl

PB £25.99 ISBN 9781447331629
HB £80.00 ISBN 9781447331605
EPUB £25.99 ISBN 9781447331636
Apr 2017

Universities are increasingly taking an active role as research collaborators with citizens, public bodies, and community organisations beyond their walls. Thousands of research collaborators, as well as the funders and institutions that are supporting them, are struggling to articulate the value of this work. This book addresses head on the key challenges in understanding and articulating the value of collaborative research in the arts, humanities and social sciences in particular.

The Creative Citizen Unbound

Edited by Ian Hargreaves and John Hartley

PB £24.99 ISBN 9781447324959
HB £75.00 ISBN 9781447324942
EPUB £25.99 ISBN 9781447324980
Apr 2016

The Creative Citizen Unbound introduces the concept of 'creative citizenship' to explore the potential of civically-minded creative individuals in the era of social media and in the context of an expanding creative economy. Contributors examine the value and nature of creative citizenship, not only in terms of its contribution to civic life and to social capital, but also to various and more contested definitions of value, both economic and cultural.

After Urban Regeneration
