

New Horizons in Criminology Series

Series Editors: Andrew Millie, Edge Hill University, UK

The New Horizons in Criminology series provides concise, authoritative texts which reflect cutting-edge thought and theoretical development with an international scope. Each divided into eight chapters, these short accessible texts explain principles and developments clearly before going deeper into the subject so that the non-specialist academic, student or practitioner can understand them.

Written by leading authors in their fields, the series has become essential reading for all academics, students and practitioners interested in where criminology is heading.

A Criminology Of Narrative Fiction

By Rafe McGregor

HB £60.00 ISBN 9781529208054
 EPUB £21.99 ISBN 9781529208092
 Jan 2021

Providing a concise overview of visual criminology, this book explores the visual perspective in relation to prisons, police, the environment, and drugs, while noting the complex ethical implications embedded in visual research.

Drawing on narratives across film, TV and novels, this critical analysis demonstrates the value of fictional narratives as tools for understanding, explaining and reducing crime and social harm. McGregor establishes an original theory of the criminological value of fiction.

HB £60.00 ISBN 9781529203783
EPUB £21.99 ISBN 9781529203844
Oct 2020

Exploring key trafficking crimes, this pioneering study develops a social theory of transnational criminal markets. Looking at how traffickers think of their illegal enterprises as 'just business', it draws broader lessons for the ways forward in understanding criminality in this emerging field.

Imaginative Criminology

By Lizzie Seal and
Maggie O'Neill

PB £21.99 ISBN 9781529202731
HB £60.00 ISBN 9781529202687
EPUB £21.99 ISBN 9781529202724
Jan 2021

Founded in cultural, textual, and ethnographic analysis, this distinctive and engaging book proposes an imaginative criminology, focusing on how spaces of transgression, control or confinement are lived, portrayed and imagined.

A Criminology of Policing and Security Frontiers

By Randy Lippert and
Kevin Walby

EPUB £21.99 ISBN 9781529202502
Aug 2020

Including novel case studies, this multi-disciplinary book assembles a rich collection of policing and security frontiers both geographical and conceptual not seen or acknowledged previously, pushing criminology to the edge of its current understanding.

Wildlife Criminology

By Angus Nurse and
Tanya Wyatt

PB £21.99 ISBN 9781529204391
HB £60.00 ISBN 9781529204346
EPUB £21.99 ISBN 9781529204360
Oct 2021

The concept of wildlife criminology reaches new boundaries in this illuminating new study of the exploitation of animals and its social implications. It considers the rights of animals as sentient beings and the impact of crimes on inter-human attitudes and violence.

A Criminology of War?

By Ross McGarry and
Sandra Walklate

PB £21.99 ISBN 9781529202663
HB £60.00 ISBN 9781529202595
EPUB £21.99 ISBN 9781529202625
Jan 2021

In this book, the authors seek to question if a 'criminology of war' is possible, whilst providing an implicit critique of mainstream criminology. They also examine how this seemingly 'new horizon' of the discipline might be usefully informed by sociology.

A Criminology of Moral Order

By Hans Boutellier

PB £21.99 ISBN 9781529203837
HB £60.00 ISBN 9781529203752
EPUB £21.99 ISBN 9781529203875
Jul 2020

Using the moral perspective Hans Boutellier bridges the gap between people's emotional opinions on crime and criminologists' rationalised answers to questions of crime and security.

Climate Change Criminology

By Rob White

PB £21.99 ISBN 9781529203974
HB £60.00 ISBN 9781529203950
EPUB £21.99 ISBN 9781529203981
Apr 2020

Leading green criminologist Rob White asks what can be learned from the problem-solving focus of crime prevention to help face the challenges of climate change.
