Jun 2019

Struggles for environmental justice involve communities negotiating the complex dynamics of agency and solidarity when mobilising against powerful forces which advocate 'development', driven by increasingly neoliberal imperatives.

Contributors include a wide range of international scholars and activists whose critique of the practices of those engaged in the pursuit of justice inform how community, development and environment should interact.

Ethics, Equity and Community Development

Edited by Sarah Banks and Peter Westoby

PB £26.99 ISBN 9781447345121
HB £80.00 ISBN 9781447345107
EPUB £26.99 ISBN 9781447345138
May 2019

Through a wide range of cross-disciplinary and international perspectives, this book examines the place of ethics and ethical practice in community development work within varied political, ecological and economic contexts across the globe.

Contributors examine issues surrounding community development as a profession, roles and boundaries, consent and everyday ethics in order to consider the multiple challenges of negotiating the tensions between ethics and politics in an unequal world.

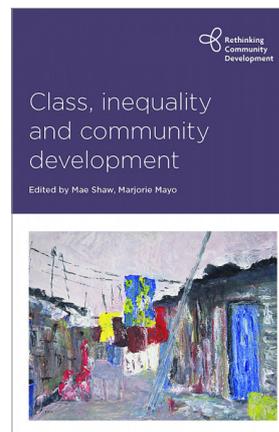

Funding, Power and Community Development

Edited by Niamh McCrea and Fergal Finnegan

PB £29.99 ISBN 9781447336174
HB £80.00 ISBN 9781447336150
EPUB £29.99 ISBN 9781447336181
Jan 2019

This edited collection critically explores the funding arrangements governing contemporary community development and how they shape its theory and practice.

International contributions from activists, practitioners and academics consider the evolution of funding in community development and how changes in policy and practice can be understood in relation to the politics of neoliberalism and contemporary efforts to build global democracy from the 'bottom up'.

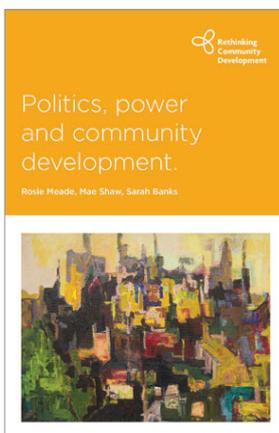

Class, Inequality and Community Development

Edited by Mae Shaw and Marjorie Mayo

PB £25.99 ISBN 9781447322467
HB £80.00 ISBN 9781447322450
EPUB £25.99 ISBN 9781447322498
Sep 2016

This book argues for the centrality of class analysis and its associated divisions of power to any discussion of the potential benefits of community development.

A wide range of contributors from across the global north and south explore how an understanding of social class can offer ways forward in the face of increasing social polarisation.

Politics, Power and Community Development

Edited by Rosie Meade, Mae Shaw and Sarah Banks

PB £25.99 ISBN 9781447317371
